

Before Arthur became the king of all of Britain and commanded his famous round table of knights, he was just a young squire with dreams of someday becoming a knight himself. It wasn't until fate brought him to a sacred sword sealed in stone that Arthur learned the truth about himself and discovered his incredible destiny. The classic tale of King Arthur and the famous sword in the stone is retold in this exciting addition to the 10 Minute Classics series.

King Arthur

ISBN: 9781486712229

Trim Size: 8.75" x 11.25"

Format: Dust Jacket, 32 Pages

SRP: $16.99

Ages: 8–11

Grades: 3–5

GRL: Q

Lexile: 970L

BISAC: JUV034000, JUV007000, JUV037000

"Philip Edwards inspired retelling of Sir Thomas Malory's classic King Arthur saga is distinctively illustrated by Adam Horsepool in this picture book edition of "King Arthur," the newest addition to the outstanding Flowerpot Press '10 Minute Classic' series...Wonderfully entertaining for young readers."

—Midwest Book Review

"The Disney-esque illustrations will appeal to younger readers."

—School Library Journal

Philip Edwards has had a successful career in the baked goods business and even built his very own bakery. Apprenticing at a local publishing company led to his first book, Moby Dick, and his first collaboration with illustrator Adam Horsepool. The duo teamed up again to create two more titles, King Arthur and The Adventures of Robin Hood. Philip now spends his days dreaming up new adventure stories and relaxing on his porch with his dog Nash resting at his feet.

Adam Horsepool has been an avid doodler since childhood and always dreamed of making a career out of his passion for art. He pursued his dream and graduated from the University of Lincoln (UK) with a degree in animation, which jump-started his career as an illustrator and made him fall in love with concept art.