AP EURO REVIEW SHEET #1: European Wars

For each of the following wars, make simple notes of the following: Causes, Course, Consequences, Conquerors, Conquered

Hundred Years' War (1337-1453)

Fall of Constantinople (1453)

Reconquista (Completed in 1492)

War of the Roses (1455-1485)

Ottoman-Hapsburg Wars (1526-1791)

Key Battles: Siege of Vienna (1529) ← Marked end of the Ottoman Empire's expansion into Europe

Defeat of the Spanish Armada (1588)

French Wars of Religion (1562-1598)

Thirty Years' War (1618-1648)

English Civil War (1641-1651)

War of Spanish Succession (1701-1714)

Great Northern War (1700-1721)

Key Battles: Narva, Poltava

Seven Years' War [a.k.a., French and Indian War] (1756-1763)

American Revolutionary War (1775-1783)

Napoleonic Wars (1803-1815)

Key Battles: Austerlitz, Waterloo

Crimean War (1853-1856)

Wars of German Unification

Austro-Prussian War (1866)

Franco-Prussian War (1870-1871)

World War I (1914-1918)

World War II (1939-1945)

Key Campaigns: Operation Torch, Battle of Britain, D-Day, Battle of the Bulge

AP EURO REVIEW SHEET #2: Treaties and International Agreements

Treaty of Tordesillas (1494)

Divided the "New World" between Spain and Portugal

Treaty of Westphalia (1648)

Ended the Thirty Years' War and established international boundaries

Treaty of Utrecht (1713)

Ended the War of Spanish Succession (and Louis XIV's Wars)

After fighting the British-led coalition to a stalemate in the War of Spanish Succession, it was agreed that Louis XIV's grandson would be placed on the Spanish throne under the condition that the French and Spanish monarchies would never be united. The French and Spanish Bourbons each renounced any claims to the other throne.

Treaty of Versailles (1919)

Ended World War I

GOOD COP

Woodrow Wilson's Fourteen Points

Freedom of the Seas, Open Treaty Negotiations, Self-determination of Peoples, League of Nations, etc.

BAD COP

Article 231 – German "War Guilt Clause"
Germany obligated to pay reparations to the victors

North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) (1949)

Collective Defense Pact – Western Europe and North America

NATO still exists and now includes many former members of the Warsaw Pact (below). France pulled out of the military structure of NATO in 1966.

The Warsaw Pact (1955)

Collective Defense Pact – Eastern Bloc (Communists)

Founded in response to NATO

The Warsaw Pact was disestablished in 1991.

Maastricht Treaty (1991)

Created the European Union

AP EURO REVIEW SHEET #3: The Balance of Power

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/European_balance_of_power

Hapsburgs, Bourbons, and British (Seventeenth Century)

British: Keep any royal house from establishing a universal monarchy on the continent (a la Napoleon) Hapsburgs: Two branches of this family held the crowns of Austria, Spain, and the Holy Roman Empire Bourbons: New royal house of France with ambitions of expanding

In the late seventeenth/early eighteenth century, Louis XIV constituted the single greatest threat to the Balance of Power. The Treaty of Utrecht (1713) ended Louis' expansionism, but did place a Bourbon on the Spanish throne.

The "Great Powers" (Eighteenth Century)

France, Britain, Austria, Prussia, and Russia

Partitioning of Poland

Prussia, Russia, and Austria agree to partition Poland, a weak confederation of nobles with an elected king. Since all three nations participated, the Balance of Power was not threatened.

Concert of Europe (1815-1878)

Established at the Congress of Vienna

Post-Napoleonic effort to maintain cooperation amongst the Great Powers to stop revolutionary movements and prevent another Napoleon-type figure from disrupting the Balance of Power. There were no continent-wide wars between 1815 and 1914, so this arrangement was pretty successful. The arrangement showed signs of fragmentation in the late nineteenth century.

German Unification (1871)

German Unification was a major event that disrupted the Balance of Power in Europe through WWII.

League of Nations (1919-1939)

International Body Created by the Versailles Treaty

Goal: To prevent war through disarmament and collective defense... that worked out well! The United States never joined and the organization basically disintegrated during World War II.

The Cold War (1946-1991)

NATO vs. Warsaw Pact

This time, the alliance system worked! The Balance of Power was modified after World War II with the partitioning of Germany and the entry of the United States into active association with

The European Union (1991-Present)

Understanding Women

(enough for the AP exam, at least!)

First off, the Roman Catholic Church has NEVER seriously considered ordaining women into the priesthood or relaxing restrictions on birth control. There will likely be a question on the exam about the Catholic Church and ordaining women will be a distractor.

Although some women (e.g., Elizabeth I) reigned as monarchs and wielded a great deal of power, most women in Early Modern Europe had No Political or Property Rights Women expected to be subordinate to their husbands (if married) or fathers (if unmarried) Renaissance: Increased access to educational opportunities for upper-class women but they were expected to remain in the domestic sphere (some wealthy women [e.g., Isabella d'Este] patronized the arts). All absolute monarchs maintained large standing armies. Constitutional societies, such as England, were highly suspicious about peacetime standing armies for this reason.

The Development of English Constitutionalism

During the Stuart Dynasty

The death of Elizabeth I in 1603 brought an end to the Tudor dynasty. James VI of Scotland, of the Stuart dynasty, was invited to reign in England as James I.

Philosophers of Absolutism and Constitutionalism

Jean Bodin and Jacques Bossuet

(Divine Right Absolutism)

Bodin and Bossuet both argued that sovereignty resides in a monarch and

Charles I receiving a crown from a hand above. James I and Charles I tried to put Divine Right theory into practice in England. Charles I paid for this with his life.

Louis XIV, on the other hand, ruled by this philosophy and lived to a ripe old age.

WHERE HOBBES AND LOCKE AGREE:

Hobbes and Locke both rejected "divine right" theory. Both wrote that the first people are born into a state of nature, in which there was no government. In this state of nature, people have no way of protecting themselves or their property. For this reason, people form governments.

The only way to keep people from destroying each other is to have an absolute ruler that is so powerful that no one could ever think of challenging him.

People choose a sovereign maintain order by governing absolutely. People do not have a right to overthrow the sovereign, as that brings things back to the state of war.

People establish governments to protect their natural rights of LIFE, LIBERTY, and PROPERTY. Governments are agents of the people in this regard, and can only act with the CONSENT OF THE GOVERNED. The people maintain their sovereignty and may overthrow any government that fails to protect natural rights.

The Dutch Republic

MERCHANT OLIGARCHY

The Dutch Republic had a complex federal system of government dominated by a combination of wealthy merchants and hereditary nobles. For more information, see my e-lecture:

What is a Stadtholder? (YouTube)

COMMERCIAL GIANT IN 17th CENTURY

was a natural port city and the center of trade for much of the 17th century.

The Dutch provided the cheapest shipping rates in Europe at the time and dominated European (and, thus, international) commerce during the seventeenth century.

They also established one of the first modern stock exchanges, which helped to raise capital for commercial ventures.

LIMITED RELIGIOUS TOLERATION

(any toleration was rare at this time in Europe)

The Dutch Republic was dominated by Calvinist merchants. While the Dutch Republic did not tend to allow religious minorities to express their faith publicly, many Jews and Catholics were able to practice their religion in private without harassment. This policy attracted Jews from other parts of Europe (where they were still being persecuted), who became active in the vibrant business community. The Dutch were some of the first people to figure out that religious intolerance is not good for business.

Here is an interesting article about religious toleration in the Dutch Republic: http://www1.umassd.edu/euro/2007papers/bikk.pdf

Dutch Golden Age Painting

The massive influx of wealth during the Dutch Golden Age resulted in an unprecedented interest in commissioning paintings among the merchant class. While Dutch artists produced many different kinds of paintings, the most famous pieces of Dutch art tend to picture people in everyday situations, often at work. The individuals pictured often reflect the Calvinist simplicity that was a key element of Dutch Golden Age culture.

For more information on Dutch Golden Age painting, take a look at my PowerPoint presentation available on Slideshare.

The religion of Deism, which boasted such illustrious adherents as Voltaire, Thomas Paine, and Thomas Jefferson, was a natural religion. The metaphysics of Deism are fairly easily explained:

God exists. He created an orderly universe and made it possible for human beings to understand him through the use of observation and reason.

Italian Unification (1815-1871)

I still need to do a bit of research on this subject, but for now, here's what I've gotten from some other AP Euro teachers:

Important Individuals:

Mazzini – The Heart Cavour – The Brains Garibaldi – The Sword Victor Emmanuel II – The Face ("Victor E" Get it???)

- Early Italian Unification movement influenced heavily by romanticism
- The weakening of France and Austria facilitated Italian Unification
- Comparisons between Cavour and Bismarck
 - While Bismarck used Prussia's Great Power status to give strength to the German Unification movement, Cavour used diplomacy to forge alliances between Sardinia and Great Powers.

German Unification (1815-1871)

The Unification of Germany was the most important political event of the late nineteenth century, fundamentally altering the Balance of Power in Europe and setting the stage for the World Wars.

Since the Middle Ages, Germany had been politically fragmented. The Holy Roman Empire, a loose association of hundreds of German principalities that had come to be meaningless (Voltaire claimed that it was "Neither Holy, nor Roman, nor an Empire."), was abolished by Napoleon in 1806. The Congress of Vienna established the German Confederation, an association of 39 politically sovereign states.

Germany's annexation of the French territory of _______ would cause lasting divisions between France and Germany in the years leading to World War I.

The Paris Commune (March-May, 1871)

When Louis Napoleon III was captured by the Prussians, his government collapsed and Parisians and a Republic was proclaimed. The movement within Paris became increasingly radicalized and the local government was taken over by a communist-dominated alliance.

During Bloody Week, the French Army (having regrouped from the war) attacked Paris and put down the Commune. Between 6,000 and 20,000 Parisians were killed in the fighting.

The Dreyfus Affair (1894-1906)

Alfred Dreyfus, a Jewish officer in the French military, was charged with spying for the Germans. He was court martialed and found guilty based on questionable evidence. Dreyfus was publicly humiliated and sentenced to life imprisonment on Devil's Island, a penal colony in the Caribbean.

The Humiliation of Dreyfus

When military leaders discovered evidence of Dreyfus' innocence, they covered it up in order to avoid embarrassment. Émile Zola, a well-known French writer, published an open letter to the President of France in a newspaper, accusing the government and the military of anti-Semitism. Zola wrote,

"These, Sir, are the facts that explain how this miscarriage of justice came about... [Dreyfus] is the victim of the lurid imagination of Major du Paty de Clam, the religious circles surrounding him, and the 'dirty Jew' obsession that is the scourge of our time."

The French population was sharply divided between the liberal and progressive "Dreyfusards," who believed in Dreyfus' innocence, and the more conservative, religious anti-Dreyfusards, who believed he was guilty. Public rallies and protests were staged throughout France, highlighting the polarization of French society (which still continues to be polarized today).

Dreyfus was given a re-trial in 1899. He was found guilty again, but pardoned. In 1906, Dreyfus was formally cleared of all charges and his military commission was re-instated. Dreyfus went on to serve in World War I and retired honorably from the military.

The Zionist Movement & Jewish Nationalism (1895-1948)

The Dreyfus Affair is often cited as a major influence on the Zionist Movement, which started with Theodor Herzl's publication of Der Judenstaat (The Jewish State). Herzl and the Jews who joined his movement gave up on the idea of integrating into European society, believing that anti-Semitism was bound to arise anywhere in Europe where Jews went to escape anti-Semitism elsewhere. Herzl wrote in Der Judenstaat,

"The Jewish question persists wherever Jews live in appreciable numbers... This is the case, and will inevitably be so, everywhere, even in highly civilised countries... so long as the Jewish question is not solved on the political level."

The Zionists' advocacy for a Jewish State was in accord the spirit of nationalism that spread through Europe in the nineteenth century, resulting in the unifications of Germany and Italy. Initially, Zionists did not receive a warm reception from Europe's political class. It would take the Holocaust for European elites to finally support the establishment of a Jewish State.
