

This is the story of three billy goats Gruff and a troll who did not know enough is enough (which may have been his undoing). Our poor troll just can't be happy with the "goat in the hand" and as it turns out, his desire for more lands him flat on his back and far down the stream. That's a good lesson learned in this fun retelling of a timeless tale.

Andrea Doss' beautiful art gives this timeless tale of a young girl's journey to her grandmother's house new life. The story of Little Red Riding Hood, her resourceful grandmother, and a big bad wolf has been a favorite for generations and Jennifer Shand's retelling continues the fun for a new generation of readers.

Jennifer Shand lives in Virginia with her husband Ryan. While growing up in the Shenandoah Valley of the Blue Ridge Mountains, Jennifer voraciously read fantasy and adventure stories and had fun taking adventures of her own. Jennifer enjoys reading, going for walks, hikes, bike rides, and traveling, but most of all she loves to write—especially stories that help make learning fun.

Andrea Doss was born an artist, and painted her early masterpieces just about anywhere. In college, Andrea decided to spend her life doing what she loves: creating art for children. Andrea says her girls and their wonderful imaginations inspire the whimsical storybook art she creates. Andrea now lives in Paris, Texas, with her husband, two daughters, and two magniloquent cats, who generously allow them to live in their house.
